A Happy Gut for the whole family this summer

by Skye Macfarlane
Lifestream Naturopath

Did you know?

Digestive issues are on the rise and these can be a result of;

- Food intolerances
- Poor diet
- Sensitive gut
- Imbalance of good and bad bacteria

The effects of digestive dysfunction can emerge as skin issues (poor healing, irritation) and may lead to fatigue, poor immunity and general poor health and wellbeing.

That is why Lifestream created Ultimate Gut Soothe, an all purpose gut support product. The active ingredients in this versatile and easy to take powder helps to support healthy digestion, soothe digestive discomfort, as well as providing a generous dose of pre AND probiotics which are essential for gut health.

Ultimate Gut Soothe is vegan, non-GMO and family friendly - able to be taken from 6 years on. Conveniently flavoured with 100% natural tropical flavour means the whole family can be supported with this complex, multi purpose and highly beneficial product.

Always read the label and use as directed. If symptoms persist see your healthcare professional. Lifestream International Ltd, Auckland. TAPS PP4884

Ultimate Gut Soothe contains:

Organically grown Aloe Vera to help calm the GI tract and also support liver function and feed the good bacteria in the gut as a prebiotic.

Deglycerised Licorice (making it suitable for those on blood pressure medication) traditionally used to support digestion, soothe and calm an unhappy stomach, as well as supporting a healthy micro biome.

Meriva® Turmeric which supports liver and gall bladder functions (essential to proper digestion and elimination).

Slippery elm - well known for its soothing mucilage content. This all star ingredient helps to coat the GI tract (including the oesophagus).

Pre and Probiotics to re-establish a good bacteria relationship within the gut. Lifestream uses Bacillus coagulans which has been proven to survive exposure to stomach acid and bile. Bacillus C. produces a form of lactic acid which aids in supporting healthy bacterial balance.

Feel your very BEST

There's something special about this time of year. A time to reflect on the year that's been, while spending precious time celebrating with friends and family. It's also a great time to get to the beach and set new goals for the new year ahead.

Here at Hardy's we have had an incredible year with lots to celebrate including the opening of our fab new store in Paihia, our wonderful new look in our upgraded Whangaparaoa store, the introduction of our BEST solution bays, and now our family is about to grow even bigger with the introduction of our very first Hardy's Health Hub at My Pharmacy in Papamoa.

This issue is all about our Hardy's family helping your family feel it's absolute BEST this summer. We have solutions from gut health to being sun smart and so much more. So from our family to yours have a fabulous summer. Our family of Hardy's Experts look forward to seeing you in store and helping you to feel your BEST in 2020!

Love and light,

Diana

At Hardy's our philosophy is for our family to help your family look and feel their very BEST.

Recently, I was asked how it is I am feeling more vibrant in my 50's than I ever did in my 30's and 40's. It was a question that really got me thinking about my own personal health and lifestyle plan, and how it had evolved over the years into what I now consider everyday living.

My journey never began with a particularly inspiring health plan or amazing new fad. Rather, it started with a change in my thinking, followed by small, regular improvements and adjustments.

Looking back, I remembered a book I had read when I first opened my wellness clinic as a fresh-faced, newly graduated Naturopath. The book, Get Real Well Soon, is a fabulous, very simple read by Michael Brosnan and after having just finished years of intense study, I remember loving its simplicity and to-the-point information.

One of the chapters that impacted me the most was called The Power of 8% Extra. As I play and follow sport, it was easy for me to imagine what Brosnan was talking about. It goes something like this; imagine if top tennis players were to hit the lines 8% more often, just 8%. Federer or Sharapova would never have lost a match. Imagine if our world champion netball team (which happens to be our Silver Ferns), shot 8% more goals, or got 8% more intercepts in every match - we'd stay world champions forever! Imagine just 8% extra speed on opponents in a sprint, running, swimming or cycling race. At top level elite sport where milliseconds matter 8% would be absolutely HUGE and would probably mean a world record time!

Now imagine applying the 8% rule to your busy lifestyle. It's only 8%, everyone can do that! You only need to drink 8% more water in a day. Easy! Consume 8% more health benefiting foods like fruits and vegetables in all the colours of the rainbow. Done!

The Power of 8%

"Do more of what makes you feel good and have 8% more FUN while working towards feeling your absolute BEST!"

With
The Power of 8% you will start to feel the benefits of any health changes you make in your life pretty quickly. Just remember to keep it super simple and trust your gut to know what's good for you.
Make at least 8% extra effort and have 8%
extra discipline

Reduce the not-so-good food choices by 8%. Can do! Have 8% extra discipline with regards to taking supplements and/or daily juicing. Totally achievable. Move 8% more each day/week - which hardly feels worth the effort but it makes such a difference. Set an alarm to wake up 8% earlier to fit exercise into your 'I've got no time to exercise' week. Reduce those habitual vices like coffee, alcohol, chocolate by only 8%.

Taking time to de-stress is also important, so slow down and breathe. Enjoy yoga, or stretching, or a therapeutic walk on the beach for just 8% more each week. Now that's something we can all achieve!

Nature's Solution to Good Gut health

100% Pure Fulvic Acid

It has always been really important to me to know exactly what I am putting into my body and onto my skin. Just like many of our Hardy's customers, we want to make a positive difference to our quality of life and the environment we live in. The closer I connect with nature and what it has to offer, the more I have found my own personal sense of beauty, balance and connection.

Here in New Zealand we are very blessed to be surrounded by wonderful plants, herbs, nutrients and natural remedies that heal and enhance our well-being. I personally believe that nature has the answers to heal most aspects of our life, and there is still so much more out there yet to be discovered. I'm excited to see that medical science researchers are now discovering what natural medicine has known and been practiced for thousands of years.

NZ FULVIC™

NZ Fulvic Ltd, Tauranga
Always read the label and use as directed.
Supplementary to a balanced diet.

WHY DOES THE WORLD NEED IT?

Agricultural intensification has stripped much of the goodness and nutrients from the Earth's surface, resulting in a 70% reduction in Fulvic levels. This means that the food grown today only contains between 20-30% of the nutritional value found in food eaten by our grandparents when they were children.

"NZ Fulvic helps with absorption and gets the goodness to our body cells to boost energy"

At Hardy's my role, among other things as Brand Manager, is to research the research, keep a look out for fantastic new supplements, skin and body care ranges, and (my favourite part) trialling new natural remedy discoveries that work!!!

One of my latest finds is NZ Fulvic Acid. Extracted from a mineral-rich seam deep within Aotearoa, New Zealand, it is one of the world's purest forms. It is carefully blended with mineral water to bring us a clear, Natural, refreshing tonic, that's vegan and keto friendly, sugar free and 100% natural. What I find fascinating is that it helps us humans absorb nutrients in the same way it helps plants - how cool is that? So get ready to feel recharged as a daily dose of NZ Fulvic Acid will help lift your energy, support your gut health, enhance nutrient absorption while supporting a healthy immune system.

NZ Fulvic Acid may be new to us here at Hardy's but is no secret to nature. In fact, humans have been taking Fulvic as a health supplement for many hundreds of years across many cultures, including Indian Ayurveda and Traditional Chinese Practice. My personal research shows that taking Fulvic Acid will enhance other supplements you are already taking by it's unique bio-absorption properties that support your gut health, which aids your body's access to essential nutrients and minerals. Put simply, NZ Fulvic helps to make nutrients more available from the food we eat and the liquids we drink.

NZ FULVIC...PERFECT FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Even though family is similar, we do differ in many ways. We have varied eating habits, daily rituals and activities plus different daily pressures we take on (willingly or not). So whatever your age, young, middle-aged, elderly, an athlete, mum or dad, NZ Fulvic is the latest and possibly one of the best ways to give your body that extra push. A daily dose will provide you and your family with a whole variety of great stuff - meaning you'll get greater amounts of the nutrition you need.

NZ FULVIC SUPPORTS A HEALTHY IMMUNE SYSTEM

Taken daily, NZ Fulvic supports a healthy immune system, and your body's natural resistance to stress. It is a powerful antioxidant which neutralises free radicals, effectively removing heavy metals from the body by chelation.

ROLE OF NZ FULVIC IN SPORT AND EXERCISE

NZ Fulvic minerals consist of oxygen, which fuels muscle activity, reduces muscle fatigue and lactic acid build up and improves recovery rates. This makes NZ Fulvic a supplement that's ideal for general training and high-level sports activity. Add it to your pre-workout drink for an extra boost, take a shot post-workout for recovery, or both.

All about Enzymes

Could a lack of enzymes be stopping you from feeling your absolute BEST?

When was the last time you felt your absolute BEST? When, if ever, have you felt that you have an abundance of energy, sleep soundly, have hair and skin with a healthy glow, bowels are happy and move daily, you aren't carrying unwanted kilos. You get a sense of feeling fantastically nourished after eating, with no bloating or discomfort, and you wake up without any body aches or pain, ready to greet the day feeling rejuvenated and joyful.

Most people reply with something like this..

I actually can't remember the last time I felt fantastic, however I do feel pretty much ok most of the time, and what else can I do? I eat a very healthy balanced diet including greens and raw foods, I drink water, move daily, plus I've reduced my alcohol, sugar and coffee intake.

If this sounds like you, the answer could quite possibly revolve around a digestive enzyme deficiency which occurs when food is not being broken down properly. An enzyme deficiency can manifest itself as a variety of conditions, with the most well-known symptoms being digestive discomfort, bloating and gas. Not so well known are obscure symptoms such as: fuzzy heads, quality of sleep, mood swings, irritability, skin issues, ongoing fatigue, tiredness, fluid and hormonal imbalances or even just a general feeling of not feeling your BEST.

How do enzyme deficiencies occur?

Enzyme deficiencies occur, when, quite simply put, there just aren't enough enzymes to break down the foods we regularly eat. Some individuals may be genetically pre-disposed towards enzyme deficiencies, but for others, factors like age, diet, and lifestyle can play a significant roll. If you've heard the phrase "I just can't eat or drink like I used to," there is a high chance that an enzyme deficiency is developing as, with age, we naturally make less enzymes.

If this sounds like you or one of your family members (including children), come into your local Hardy's store and talk to one of our trained experts. They can prescribe the perfect digestive and/or wellness programme for your needs. Helping you towards feeling your absolute BEST everyday!

So even when we eat high quality raw foods, which by the way is a fantastic thing to do, we typically only get the enzymes needed to digest that food itself and supply our body with those nutrients.

There are generally not enough enzymes left to take care of other cooked foods, especially processed and refined foods. Add to this the fact that stress depletes enzymes, and it becomes easier to see how a person could become enzyme-deficient, even if they regularly eat some raw fruits and vegetables.

So in conclusion – eating the best diet in the world may be a waste of time if you are unable to process and absorb all the goodness from your food. After all, we all know we are what we eat right? Actually, these days I prefer to say we are what we digest and absorb.

Essential tips to save your skin this summer

Once upon a time, it used to be the thing to do, to cover yourself in body oil and lie out in the sun all day. I can remember back when we even used Olive Oil. Literally baking our skin to a crisp, all in the name of a good tan! These days however, we know better... Too much sun not only prematurely ages the skin, it increases the chance of developing skin cancer. And we are particularly at risk here in New Zealand, thanks to that big hole in the ozone layer. So how do we best protect ourselves?

Cover up & know the peak burn times

Cover up or stay out of the sun during peak burn times (UV levels are typically highest from 11am to 3pm). And then there's sunscreen, which we are told to apply liberally, all over the face and body, every few hours. The question is, could this be doing us more harm than good?

Choose a good sunscreen

Many mainstream, supermarket-shelf sunscreens contain a cocktail of chemicals (including oxybenzone, benzoate, parabens and other toxins) which researchers suggest are best avoided.

Hints for Summer

Please note that Therapeutic Grade essential plant oils must be 100% natural and pure. All Absolute Essential plant oils are certified organic and certified vegan; sourced, produced, processed and handled with care, to maintain optimum integrity and maximum quality and purity. MY SUNSHINE SUNSCREEN | $49.90

My Sunshine is the perfect healthy sunscreen for you and your family this summer. It is zinc based & formulated to protect, nourish & help repair your skin. It contains not nasty chemicals, is vegan, cruelty free, reef safe & made in NZ. My sunshine complies to the Aust/NZ Sunscreen Standard 2604:2012

At Hardy's we highly recommend a mineral Zinc based sunscreen; My personal favourite is My Sunshine sunscreen enriched with nature's natural sunscreens - Red Raspberry Seed Oil and Sea Buckthorn Oil, that further protects your skin from the sun. To nourish your skin, it is loaded with Organic Aloe Vera, Organic Coconut Oil, Organic Shea Butter and Chamomile. Also, with mega antioxidants Green Tea, Vitamin E and Olive Oil to fight free radicals and help repair your skin.

Tips for A Healthy Enhanced Tan

Before you put on your sunscreen consider applying an Organic Jojoba Oil 'Nature's powerful protective barrier, which helps to enhance your tan but more importantly deflects any harmful elements from entering the blood. The optimum absorbency of a high-grade Jojoba Oil offers profound hydration and nutrition, with a rich, natural balance of essential fatty acids and vitamins, acting more like a liquid wax than an oil. So when applied before sunscreen, it softens and conditions while providing a natural barrier.

So what does all that mean? Your sunscreen won't need to be applied as liberally or as often as it stays on the skin, and the health of your skin will be enhanced, leaving you with a wonderful healthy natural summer glow.

ORGANIC JOJOBA OIL

This powerful protective barrier is absorbed into the skin easily, providing hydration and nutrition, whilst leaving a protective film on the outer layer of your skin. When applied before sunscreen, it softens and conditions, and provides a natural barrier to deflect harmful elements.

BEST SOLUTIONS

Sugar Balance

Our Hardy's BEST solutions are recommendations from myself and our Team of Experts for a range of ailments. As we head towards summer in this issue, I am focusing on sugar balance and carbohydrate tolerance, as what we eat and drink around the festive season can be challenging, not only to our waist lines but our moods and energy levels too.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Carbohydrates can be recognised as a food intolerance or sensitivity. While many of my patients suffer from weight gain, fatigue, cholesterol and glucose problems when they eat a diet higher in refined carbs, there is a group that can consume exactly the same diet yet remain slim and metabolically healthy. And then there is a less fortunate group that say they only need to look at carbs and they seem to gain weight. Wow! The same diet with very different outcomes.

The level of carbohydrate which an individual can tolerate before they begin to show signs of a sugar imbalance can be seen as their individual carbohydrate tolerance.

Carbohydrates themselves are not normally detrimental to health, it's how each individual's body deals with them that seems to be the problem. As I've mentioned before what is one person's medicine can be another's poison, hence why I loathe fad diets. We are all very unique and have our own level of tolerance. Remember if it's not a good fat, or a protein, it's probably a carbohydrate or bad fat. Rule of thumb: carbohydrates that are picked from trees and harvested from gardens 'found in nature' are fantastic carbs and are tolerated by most. More often than not, it's all the refined processed carbs and sugars that cause carbohydrate tolerance and sugar balance issues.

EXCESS CARBOHYDRATE TURNS TO FAT

When we eat a starchy meal made up of refined carbohydrates or sugar, such as pizza or pasta, and fail to utilise all of that meal now circulating as blood glucose, the body's response is to release an increased amount of insulin. This process is designed to bring blood sugar levels down to a safer level, protecting our internal organs. However, if the insulin and glucose exceeds the capacity of what our muscle mass can utilise for energy, it means there is now a need for that surplus to be stored somewhere else in the body that is safe. Yes, you guessed it, that safe storage unit is a fat cell. How clever is that? It might be clever, but certainly not healthy, especially as the fat storage is usually found as visceral fat around the waist.

A NEW Food intolerance has emerged in the form of carbohydrate tolerance and/or overload.

SIGNS YOU MAY BE EXCEEDING YOUR CARBOHYDRATE TOLERANCE:

- Gain weight easily, especially around the mid waist
- Feel more of a struggle to loose weight than in the past
- Brain foggy or headaches after eating refined carbs
- Crave high energy sugary snacks, without can feel 'Hangry'
- Feel fatigued and sleepy after eating a carbohydrate meal
- Elevated waist circumference >80cm (women) >94cm (men)
- Skin tags around neck and armpit areas
- Adult acne (often known as diabetes of the skin)

So if you feel your carbohydrate tolerance has recently changed, start by reducing or completely removing all processed refined carbs like those found in bread, pasta, cakes and cereals. Increase fresh whole food carbohydrates in the form of vegetables and fruits. Yes, green vegetables are carbohydrates. Eat good fats and adequate amounts of high quality lean protein at each meal – you may prefer vegetable proteins.

HOT TIPS!

Add cinnamon to your smoothie and/or morning coffee. Move daily making sure you include exercise that increases your muscle mass. Add a high quality Omega Oil, Magnesium and SUGAR BALANCE supplement that will help you utilise the carbs you consume more efficiently, by converting them into energy and not storing them as unwanted FAT!

Our Hardy's Expert Team are available to help with any advice you may need. Our Sugar Balance BEST Solution will help reduce sugar cravings, increase and balance energy levels, smooth out moods, support optimal fat metabolism responsible for healthy weight management, improve your brain focus, skin health and your overall sense of vitality, while discovering your very BEST.

MAGNESIUM

Plays an important role by helping your body convert glucose from your food into fuel. If you don't have enough magnesium in your body, your cells can become less effective at using insulin. In fact, a 2003 study of 219 women, published in the Journal of the American College of Nutrition, found that those with higher magnesium intakes had lower fasting insulin levels. This means that they were more sensitive to the insulin in their bodies, so their blood sugar levels were more stable.

CHROMIUM

An important mineral vital for healthy blood sugar balance. Poor regulation of blood sugar can lead to energy slumps, sugar cravings, difficulty maintaining a healthy body weight, and poor cardiovascular health. Chromium is a commonly deficient mineral due to the high intake of refined and sugary foods in modern diets.

SADABAHAR (OR PERIWINKLE)

An ayurvedic medicinal herb traditionally consumed for healthy blood sugar levels.

CINNAMON

Supports digestion and digestive metabolism. Cinnamon has been studied for its antioxidant properties and for its ability to support healthy sugar levels. In recent times, cinnamon has been studied for its support of balanced blood sugar levels, and can help support blood sugar levels already in the normal range. Its warming nature supports healthy digestion.

Please note, if you are on any diabetic medication, please consult with your health professional before altering your diet.

OUR HARDY'S FAMILY IS Growing

We are delighted to welcome Ben and his wonderful team at My Pharmacy Papamoa – our very first Hardy's Health Hub opening within a pharmacy.

Not only will this store within a store concept allow us to share our expertise with like-minded retailers, it also enables us to educate more New Zealanders about natural health, whilst growing our iconic brand nationally.

My Pharmacy is proudly both locally and independently owned, does not report to shareholders or investors, but rather to their customers. Their key touchstones are health, family, respect and professionalism, and their goal is to ensure your family is healthy and able to enjoy the best life that the stunning Bay of Plenty has to offer.

Owner Ben van den Borst says they already have a strong focus on natural health, and partnering with Hardy's is exciting for both staff and customers. He is looking forward to bringing new product ranges and natural health services to his clients.

Look out for the
